Dear Andy,

Following receipt of our most recent order, I can confirm we will be placing a Purchase Order for our third collection, which we anticipate, will be larger than the first two.

This is on condition that your quote for the new styles are in line with the price paid for the previous styles, that your sampling and production capacity are able to continue to meet our deadlines, and that the quality of tailoring remains at the high standards we demand.

Although this is not legally binding, we have every intention of placing our third PO with you and all things being equal plan to source from you for years to come.

Kind regards,

Brooke Da Cruz
